DuPont™ Artistri® Inks announces partnership with Colourtex Industries Private Limited for its reactive and direct disperse product lines

WILMINGTON, Del., April 17, 2023 – DuPont™ Artistri®, a global leader in digital inkjet inks with more than 30 years of innovation, is transitioning the production and supply of Artistri® reactive and direct disperse textile inks to Colourtex Industries Private Limited (Colourtex), as part of its long-term sustainability strategy.

Colourtex is an India based company located in Surat, Gujarat, serving the global textile industry for more than 50 years. Colourtex was strategically selected based on its inks manufacturing know-how, technical capabilities, and location to offer the high-quality inks customers expect. Tucker Norton, General Manager for Artistri® Digital Inks at DuPont, said, “With this strategic decision, our goal was to find a company capable of continuing to offer reactive and direct disperse inks at the quality level that the DuPont™ Artistri® products are known for in textile printing. With Colourtex’s vast experience and manufacturing capabilities, these products will meet customers’ standards for quality performance and delivery.”

Talking about this partnership, Vishad Jariwala, Marketing Director at Colourtex, said, “We are excited to have the DuPont™ Artistri® reactive and direct disperse inks in our digital inks portfolio. With our proven expertise in manufacturing processes and comprehensive product range for textile applications we look forward to serving digital printing customers globally.”
